

International Conference on Electrolysis

1st International Conference on Electrolysis

12 – 15 June 2017

Venue: Axelborg, Copenhagen, Denmark

Invited and contributed papers

Deadline for abstracts: 15 February 2017

Notification of acceptance: Early April 2017

<http://ice2017.net>

Aim: To start a conference series on electrolysis for energy conversion.

Conference topics include: *All scientific and technical aspects of alkaline/PEM/solid oxide electrolyzers. Materials science, components, electrochemistry, diagnostics, operation,
system, lifetime and degradation.*

Organizers: DTU Energy, Aalborg Univ. and EWII Fuel Cells.

Sponsor:

EWII

About the conference

International Conference on Electrolysis. A new forum for all of us who are involved in the scientific/technical aspects of electrolysis for conversion of energy. The conference will be based on invited as well as contributed papers – talks and posters.

Regardless if it is alkaline, PEM or solid oxide, we hope to hear your story on materials, components, systems or diagnostics. Let it be lab. scale or full scale field test.

We will keep electrolysis on top of the list, not as a sub-topic of something else.

Come and take part from the very beginning. We intend to make this a recurring event at different venues every second year.

Welcome in Copenhagen,
Jens Oluf Jensen, DTU Energy Conference Chair

Venue

ICE2017 will be held in the centre of Copenhagen at walking distance from central station which is a 14 min train ride from Copenhagen International Airport (CPH).

The address is:
Bojesen A/S - Axelborg - Vesterbrogade 4A
DK-1620 Copenhagen V, Denmark

Call for abstracts

You are encouraged to submit an abstract for a contributed oral or poster presentation.

Please follow the guidelines at the conference homepage (soon to be posted).

Sponsor

International Scientific Committee

The committee is appointed for this first event by the organizers. It is suggested that a permanent committee is established by the committee members who take part in the first event. The committee will also decide on a simple set of terms of reference for the future conferences and how to expand the committee. The International Scientific Committee will be listed at the homepage.
